

“Sufi Splendor” by Friends of OSHO

Zia Nath and Sanatan Chakravarty presented a dance performance entitled “The Sufi Splendor.” It was a confluence of Sacred Dances of India and the Middle East, weaving together the graceful and lyrical Odissi Dances and Sufi Whirling. The dancers also used Rumi’s poems to create the Sufi ambience. When Zia presented Sufi whirling clad in a black, Dervish robe, the audience fell into a deep, meditative state. As she melted into her dance the dancer disappeared and the dance remained.
