

Lions Club International Honours Osho International Foundation for 'Enlightening Lives' Across the Globe

In an event called "Public Service Week" organized by the Mumbai Lions Club International, a gorgeous trophy was awarded to OSHO International Foundation recognizing its contribution to awakening many souls by sharing Osho meditations and his words internationally.

Amrit Sadhana, one of the trustees of Osho International Foundation, received the award on behalf of the foundation.

In a letter to the trustees of Osho International Foundation, the district governor Lion Dinesh Shah wrote, "We are very happy to know that your foundation is spreading and imparting education in Yoga, meditation and various other forms to participants without any restrictions of cast, creed or special status for the full development of mind, body and soul and make them conscious human beings. The foundation is also imparting formal training in the field of art, science and humanities to make complete self development of human beings as ideal citizens of the world."
